

WE'RE BACK

After the recent government announcements, John Bayliss followed up the council to confirm our understanding and clarify the guidelines that still need to be followed.

So after 76 days the workshop doors will be open for normal sessions on Monday 1st June.

The following rules must be followed:

- Social distancing must still be maintained so the number of chairs around the kitchen table will be reduced accordingly. Another table will be placed in the entrance area of the workshop to cater for extra-large groups.
- Bring your own mugs for coffee and then take them home when you leave. Disposable cups will be available.
- Food preparation in the kitchen is not allowed. If you are coming for the day bring your own sandwiches
- Hand sanitizer & wipes will be available to wipe tools & equipment after use.
- It is important that if you are unwell, stay at home.
- Each toilet needs to be cleaned after sessions.
- Currently there must be no more than 20 in the workshop.

Some work has been done while the workshop has been closed. Gordon Waddingham has built a cross cut saw bench. He has done a very professional job making something very similar to what we had at our previous workshop. Thanks Gordon

More wood has been collected & is available for sale. You will see the wood as you enter the club and in the back left hand corner of the workshop. Note the wood is not free as currently it is the club's only source of income.

Your committee continues to work for the club to make it a better club.

- A door to the paint room has been installed.
- The gate to the carpark is working now making the carpark private to WoSP & radio club members.

However there is a need for a working bee Monday morning 1st June at 9.30am. Your assistance will be welcomed.

Well everyone has had 76 days to perform there “home” activities & I hope these recent emails will help you reflect on what you did during the time of club closure.

Some of us learnt to operate ZOOM, some members made finials, some turned pens while others did carpentry work around the home. David Feather provided photos of the outdoor steps he has been making.

No matter what you may have done I hope you & your family are well.
